OPENING OF NIGHT SCHOOL.
Ninety-nine Scholars Enrolled.
Appropriate Remarks.

Last evening there was quite a little excitement about the Fort Street school premises. A considerable crowd assembled before 7
o'clock, the time for commencing
the night school. Mr. Lightfoot, the principal, was on hand. His assistants were Miss Lynch, of the Beretania Street school, and Mrs.
N. B. Emerson.

Promptly on time organization was commenced. The pupils were drafted into the three rooms and
each personally examined as to qualifications. In this work Professor M. M. Scott, of the High School, Mr. Armstrong Smith, of Kauluwa School and Mr. A. T.
Atkinson took part. The candidates for the most part were an exceedingly intelligent and earnest set of young men. There is no doubt that some splendid work can be done with them to the very great advantage of themselves and the state. Mr. Tenney, who has taken much interest in the movement, made some very appropriate remarks to the young men whom he had persuaded to join.

Among those present were Professor Alexander, President of the Board of Education, Mr. W. A.
Bowen, member of the Board, and Mr. Frank Damon, all of whom take a very great interest in education.

THE DESTINY OF HAWAII.

Former Resident of the Islands
Favors Annexation.

PRAISE FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

In Event of War With Any Foreign Power the Islands Would Be Invaluable as a Base of Operations.
United States Should Absorb Them.

JACKSONVILLE (Or.), Dec. 12.— (Special correspondence to Portland Oregonian.)—James Elliott, who has been a resident of Jacksonville for the past twenty years, has just returned from a two months' visit to Honolulu.
Mr. Elliott formerly lived for a number of years on one of the Hawaiian islands, and is well versed in the history and government of Hawaii prior to the establishment of the present Government.

He says the government, under the monarchy, was for a long series of years a rotten and irresponsible system of extravagance and shameless debauchery, unworthy the name of a government, and that it was tolerated
only because of the weakness, indolence and want of moral courage of the inhabitants.

The natives are represented as being indolent, good natured and inoffensive
and just such a people as would be likely to suffer, so long as evils were sufferable, before raising the standard of revolt. Mr. Elliott is an intelligent and practical man and a close observer, and while there made a careful study of the workings of the new Government, and gives it as his opinion that it is one of the best for existence today. He says it is clean,
liberal and temperate, and its affairs
are administered with dispatch and strictly in accordance with law; and that the people, without regard to nativity or party, are accepting and supporting it in good faith, and that all ideas of the possible restoration of the monarchy have been abandoned,
and that the Government is now
securely entrenched in the judgment
and affections of the people.

Mr. Elliott says there is but one sentiment respecting annexation, and that it is universal. He is firmly impressed with the opinion that annexation is the ultimate and inevitable
destiny of the islands, and that the sooner they are annexed the better it will be for the United States. He says that in the event of war with any foreign power, the islands would give us a valuable ground and base of operations
which would be invaluable, and that if they should pass under the control of some other power they would be a constant menace to us, and, from their position, might be made a dangerous and very effective and offensive outpost. He claims that the sentiment of annexation is so pronounced
and universal that it could now be accomplished without a war, and that,
in his opinion, as a matter of national policy, it is the most important public question of the day, and one the United States cannot afford to set aside or daily with as of little import.
He thinks it was a grave mistake that the policy of President Harrison was not carried out to its logical conclusion, and the islands annexed at once.
He believes the assumption of the public debt, and payment of the current expenses of the government, over and above the revenues, whatever
they might be, would be as nothing
compared with the multiplied advantages, especially in time of war, to be derived from annexation.

The officers of the Government are represented as able, conscientious and patriotic men, and that Mr. Elliott expresses the belief that, in the event
annexation fails, the Government will continue intact, and will receive the aid and hearty support of the commonwealth.

RACES ON THE 17TH.

Events Will Take Place Rain or Shine—Match Contest.

The match race at 2:30 p. m.
tomorrow on Kapiolani park track
between Clarence Macfarlane's
"Salvator" and Gus Schuman's
"Judah" will be an exciting one.
Both horses have records to make and are in excellent fettle. They are Hawaiian bred and considered in turf parlance "green." The race will not be run unless the track is in good condition. Admission will be free.

The same race program that was to have been carried out on New Year's day will be given on January 17th. All the horses are in good condition and will perhaps be the better for the delay. Charles David, who has the races in charge,
said yesterday, "We will have the races on the 17th, rain or shine.
This I want given out for the information of the public, so they need have no fear of disappointment. The bicycle races may not take place if the track should be heavy, but the horse races will come off."

Athletics Among Militia.

Several of the regulars will devote their spare time to athletics
this year and will endeavor to create an interest in the ranks of their respective companies in games
such as baseball and tennis. The new parade grounds are looked upon as a place where at least three or four tennis courts could be laid out without injuring the place for drill purposes.

WOES OF BAND BOYS.

Hawaiian National Band in Much
Pilikia in Ohio.

One of the Members Writes of Ill
Treatment by Supposed Friends.
Baggage Seized—No Funds.

There has been much said about the Hawaiian National Band, now
presumably in the State of Ohio,
but few seem to believe the report
of December 26th from Massillon,
O., telling of their stranded condition and starvation. Certainly, if the tenor of a letter received from one of the band members is to be believed, their troubles did not begin in Massillon, but in Cleveland,
a week or so previous.

At the time the letter was written members of the band were in most severe straits, as its contents
will show:

"I am about to tell you of the misfortunes that have occurred to me and my colleagues recently. I refer to the unfriendly treatment
by R. W. Aylett and J. H. Wilson,
two of the band boys. We played in the drill pavilion in the city of Cleveland and were to have received therefor the sum of $300.
When we had finished playing, J.
Libornio went to Aylett and Wilson and demanded his share of the money. He was refused.

"Before playing Aylett said to Kuamoo and Libornio that the money had been grabbed by all of the boys. It seems that he and Wilson had been the ones who had done the grabbing.

"The same night Wilson was thrown out of the bus that was carrying us for accusing Libornio of theft. Aylett was a very badly scared man at that time.

"Wilson made a complaint to the mayor, and so here we are under municipal surveillance. Aylett tried to get possession of our instruments, but we refused to give them up because we had a right to ours as much as he had to his, they having been given to us through a donation at home.

"As soon as they have finished their proceedings rest assured we shall begin ours. We are in none too good a humor from the fact of having been treated so shabbily by those whom we believed to be our friends. But there is more in store for these men. Mr. Thearle is looking out for his interests and will sue them for failing to fulfill their part of the contract.

"For our part, we have not seen
a cent since the time the money arrived for distribution.

"Our troubles are certainly most disheartening. Our valises have been seized because we haven't any money with which to defray expenses."

CARL KLEMMER ARRESTED.

Returned to the Islands Without Permission of the Government.

Carl Klemme, who returned to the city by the last Australia, was arrested at 6 p. m. yesterday at the home of his brother by Captain Scott on the charge of unlawfully landing in the Hawaiian islands
after having been arrested on the charge of conspiracy and allowed to leave the islands to avoid imprisonment.

Klemme had the alternative of going away on the Australia or being arrested. He claimed that his wife was very ill and he could not leave her under the circumstances.
He said he expected his arrest.

Klemme was released at 9:30 last night on a $5000 bond, his brother
Emil being the surety.

CHRISTMAS ON KAUAI.

Annual Reception and Gifts to Kealia Employees.

GERMANS AT LIHUE REMEMBERED

Holidays Unusually Pleasant at Ma-
kaweli—Many Kinds of Amusements
Make Many Hearts Glad—Prisoners
Get Share of Good Things, Etc.

KEALIA (Kauai), Jan. 1.—It has been the usual custom with the Makee Sugar Company in years past, during the non-residence of the proprietor, Col. Z. S. Spalding and his family, to observe the Christmas holidays at Kealia and Kapaa by distribution of gifts to all the employees on the plantation, and a grand luau or feast on Christmas day.

This year proved to be no exception to this very pleasant custom.
The genial young manager, George H. Fairchild, carried out the wishes of his superior in a manner very creditable to himself and worthy of the gracious liberality of the colonel and his family, whom he represents.

The festivities opened with a
grand feast given at the Kealia
hotel, Saturday evening of the 28th of December. The hotel was profusely and beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers, and upon the tables—which were built for the occasion and artistically decorated—were laid covers for a hundred or more, to whom were served by attentive waiters all the delicacies of the season in great abundance.

The party then adjourned to the Kealia hall, where they were entertained for a couple of hours by a series of very beautiful stereopticon views, which were imported for the occasion, and under the skillful manipulation of chief engineer William Eassie.

After this, Mr. Fairchild distributed the presents, each bearing a card with the aloha of Col. Z.
S. Spalding and family upon it.
Many of these presents were quite valuable, consisting of sterling silver, which had been imported from the East.

To the children were given an immense amount of toys and confections, filling their little hearts
with gladness, which surely will endure through the coming year.

Thus ended an occasion that will long be held in pleasant memory
by a large number of very happy
people.

At Makaweli.

MAKAWELI, Jan. 2.—The holidays were unusually pleasant
this year. In the first place the weather was good. Our mill had not started up, and every one had the evenings at their command.

On Christmas eve Mrs. Ogg's
little Sunday school class of twelve held their exercises. The little folks carried through their program with great credit to themselves and their teacher who had worked so faithfully with them for weeks.

Shortly after the last number a jingle of bells was heard, the curtain was drawn and a beautiful glittering tree appeared and a real
"Santa Claus" with red coat and fur cap bounded in, soon making friends with the children whom he seemed to recognize by name. He was soon busy distributing good things to the expectant little ones.
A handsome volume of Tennyson's poems was found on the tree, a present to Mrs. Ogg from the members of her class.

On Christmas day the Makaweli
Tennis Club held a tournament.
Mr. Perry won the prize for singles.

As a fitting wind up dinner parties were given at the homes of Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Ogg and Mrs. Morrison.

On New Year's eve a dance was given by Mr. Morrison to the plantation people and neighboring friends. A jolly evening was spent. Some fifty people were present. The new year was welcomed with cheers, congratulations
and best wishes.

At 3 p. m. Christmas day the Waimea Sunday school held its exercises in the school house. Over sixty pupils took part, most of whom were natives and Japanese.

Santa Claus appeared there also.

In Lihue Town.

The native Sabbath school held their Christmas service the Sunday
before Christmas. On Wednesday,
at 1 p. m., Christmas day, the
school assembled at Kalapaki.
There was not the usual tree, but the decorating committee had done
its work so well in the spacious lanai that it was almost one with its festoons of ferns and beautiful roses scattered here and there. At either end of the room were tables
laden with bags containing sandwiches, cake, apples, nuts and raisins.

The Malumalu school sang a pretty carol, which showed careful training by the way in which it was rendered. After the service of song the children seated themselves
on the mats which were spread
upon the lawn, and the bags, soda
water and coffee were passed to each class. Later the candy was handed around, and the bright paper containers made the same look very attractive. After this picnic lunch the superintendent
called the different classes up; as they answered the roll call they marched into the lanai and sang a song, while some of the lady teachers in a side room were gathering
the suitable gifts for each. When all had received their gifts, games
were indulged in till the children
tired, but happy returned to their homes.

So bountiful had been the supply
that the poor prisoners at the Lihue jail were remembered, and who knows but some sad and hard hearted one was softened by the cheer sent to them.

Regret was expressed that all
who had so generously contributed to the pleasure of so many were unable to attend.

A peep through the windows of the German school house on Christmas eve would have saddened any one's heart to have seen the bright faces of the many children assembled to enjoy their beautiful Christmas tree. First, the carols were sung which their faithful teacher,
Mr. Maser, had taught them, and then the gifts were given to the children by Mrs. Hans Isenberg, assisted by Miss Grau, while Pastor Isenberg read out the names of the different families. There were fifty nine families represented by the children, eighty-nine of which attend the German school, and
about sixty-six little ones too
young yet to do so.

They were all very generously remembered with large bags of good things, and besides useful gifts for each, it was a happy band
of children that wended their way homewards, heavily laden with their bags of apples, nuts, raisins
and candy to enjoy on the morrow
at their own homes, and so carefully had the good pastor's wife
looked out for the comfort of each that not one German family on the Lihue plantation had been forgotten.

Christmas eve the Japanese of the Lihue plantation were remembered.
They were called to the Y. M. C.
A. building near Hale Nani, and Madame Rice with the help of Mr.
Yamasaki, gave them each a Christmas gift. This served to show the laborers that one at least had felt them worthy of their hire, and the "stranger in a strange land" had not been forgotten.

The Portuguese and others were remembered by this same plantation, with generous roasts of beef
as a New Year's gift.

Kilauea hands spent an enjoyable evening with their genial manager, Mr. Ewart, and his kind lady during Christmas tide with a ball and supper. Mrs. Muller had a delightful entertainment also.

Season of Necromancy.

This evening Professor Zamloch
will give, in the hall of the Y. M.
C. A., his first performance on the occasion of his third tour of the Hawaiian Islands. The professor has an extensive repertoire of first-class illusions and feats of prestidigitation. Some of the latest and most popular puzzles in presti-
ditation as presented in Europe
and America will be performed.
The sale of seats presages an excellent audience to greet Professor Zamloch this evening.

Robert Ballantyne is reported to have been very successful recently
on the race courses at San Francisco. Other persons from the islands are ahead of the races.

STRATHNEVIS IS SAFE.

Found at Anchor Behind Destruction Island by the Mineola.

SALVAGE CLAIM FOR $150,000.

Log of the Strathnevis Tells a Story Seldom Duplicated in the Annals of Maritime History—Another Accident While Being Towed to Tacoma.

PORT TOWNSEND, Dec. 26.—The steamship Strathnevis, which sailed from Tacoma October 12th for the Orient and was about given up for lost, arrived in port at 10 o'clock last night in tow of the steamer Mineola. The officers report a remarkable voyage, one filled with dangers and privations, and on Monday afternoon lost all hope of saving the vessel was abandoned and life rafts and boats were manned and preparations made for leaving the vessel, as she was in imminent danger of drifting ashore on Destruction Island, where certain death stared them in the face.

The log of the Strathnevis tells a story that is seldom duplicated in the annals of maritime history, and more especially in the North Pacific Ocean.

Leaving Victoria October 13th with 165 passengers and forty-six officers and crew, with a moderate sea running, a speed of ten knots was made until October 20th, at 7:40 in the morning, in latitude 49 deg. 14 min. north and longitude 164 deg. 27 min. west, when the ship experienced a terrific shock, the crash sounding like an explosion of cannon. The shaft had snapped short off close to the propeller, which dropped clear of the vessel and went to the bottom. A strong northern gale was coming on and all sail was crowded on two small masts without yards, schooner rigged. The accident occurred about 180 miles south of Unalaska. Slowly the gale carried the vessel to south-west and it was two days later before she could make any progress toward the east. From that time on, after temporary yards of frail nature had been rigged, under a zigzag course, she sailed slowly toward Cape Flattery until November 19th, when she fell in with the bark John Gambles, which was in latitude 49 deg. 3 min. N. and longitude 145 degrees W., which was the most northern point reached. Southerly and easterly gales were then met and many back-sets were encountered which lasted several days at a time. On December 15th she was sighted by the Royal Mail steamer Miowera, bound from Vancouver to Hawaii, and at noon was taken in tow for Esquimaux. Every day brought forth a heavy gale or tremendous ocean swells, and the Strathnevis would get into the trough of the seas and roll frightfully. Unfortunately the tow line of the four-inch steel hawsers parted at 1 o'clock next morning, after covering 180 miles. This serious mishap was not successfully overcome, owing to high seas and boisterous weather, until December 20, all of which time the Miowera remained close by, and then another steel hawser and a twelve-inch manilla rope was gotten aboard and the Strathnevis was again taken in tow. Matters progressed favorably until last Monday evening, when a tattoo light was a dozen miles distant, and then the steamer ran into a screaming southwest gale accompanied by rain and thick weather.

In the midst of this storm both hawsers snapped and the rescuing steamer disappeared in the squall, leaving the Strathnevis helpless and before the wind and sea, drifting to ward shore in the vicinity of Destruction Island.

A consultation was held by Captain Pattie and his officers, and preparations were made to abandon the ship. Life rafts and boats were provisioned and all hands were preparing for the worst. The gale continued and the rain fell in torrents. Through the uppour preparations were made for the dreadful roar of the breakers bursting over Destruction Island.

At an opportune time the gale commenced to moderate and the seas slowly subsided. The shore was only a few miles distant, and the lead noted thirty-eight fathoms of water. At 2 o'clock yesterday morning the port anchor was dropped, but it failed to stop the progress of the ship, and she steadily drifted broadside on shore. Slowly the chain swung her head out to sea, though the strain was so intense that the windlass could not check it, and the anchor and chain ran out and went to the bottom. Quickly all hands turned to and got the starboard anchor down, which held, and the big steamship swung her bow out to sea, though chafing as if anxious to break away and drift out to the rocks to certain destruction. Morning dawned, and not a sail or vestige of smoke obscured the horizon. At 10 o'clock, though a dangerous sea was running, Pursuer, McDonald, Second Officer Baia and three Japanese sailors volunteered to make the attempt to reach Destruction Island in a small boat in hopes of telegraphing to Port Townsend for assistance.

At noon Tuesday the steamship Mineola, Captain Pillsbury, from Tacoma for San Francisco, came in sight and offered its services. She was closely followed by the steamer Costa Rica. After agreeing to leave the question of compensation to be determined by the courts the Mineola took the Strathnevis in tow at 4 o'clock, intending to go to Victoria, but the weather was not such to warrant vessels going there. Just after taking her in tow the hawser parted and the ship began to drift in shore before a fresh west wind. However another hawser was gotten on board and the vessel was brought to Port Townsend. For the last two weeks the principal diet aboard has been salmon, flour and condensed food.

On the day before the Strathnevis was taken in tow Captain Pattie and his officers, after realizing how steadily she was drifting to the southward, decided to head for San Francisco or some port in California. On the next day the Miowera hove in sight and the plan was changed.

Much uneasiness is felt for the safety of the boat containing Pursuer McDonald and four men, who left the steamer intending to land on Destruction Island. The coast is particularly rough and is lined with jagged rocks, on which several vessels in recent years have been wrecked and a dozen or more lives lost. Hope is held out that he may have landed at Quilley, Indian village, in which event he would not arrive here for weeks, as traveling along the coast at this time of the year is particularly dangerous.

The Canadian-Australian Company sent a representative here from Victoria to ascertain the particulars of the service rendered the Strathnevis by the Miowera. Though not fully determined upon, owing to the non-receipt of confirmatory orders from his company, the agent intimated that about $250,000 would be reasonable compensation for five days' service.

STRATHNEVIS LIBELED.

Salvage Claims of the Mineola's Owners Fixed at $150,000.

PORT TOWNSEND, Dec. 27.—The Pacific liner Strathnevis, which, after drifting about for sixty-six days in mid-ocean, with a broken propeller, was finally rescued from wrecking on Destruction Island, was today libeled at this port by the Southern Pacific railway, charterers of the steamer Mineola, which rescued her. The salvage claim is fixed at $150,000.

This afternoon the tug Tyee towed the vessel to Tacoma, where her cargo will be taken out, having been duplicated since she failed to arrive at her destination.

Strathnevis Unfortunate.

PORT TOWNSEND, Dec. 27.—Misfortune seems determined to follow the Strathnevis to the last. She was ordered to proceed to Tacoma this afternoon to land her passengers and cargo, preparatory to going on the drydock for repairs. Two large tugs took her in tow, and as she was about to round Point Marrowstone, bound up the Sound, a squall of wind came up and for a few moments the vessel became unmanageable. Had not the tug Sea Lion rushed to the rescue with new hawsers, the old ones having parted, it is quite probable that she would have drifted ashore. Without further accident she finally got under way at 4 o'clock.

Fears for the Miowera.

VICTORIA, Dec. 26.—Grave fears are expressed here tonight that the Canadian Australian liner Miowera, while endeavoring to bring the crippled steamer Strathnevis into port, has herself gone down in a storm at the entrance to the Straits of Fuca, or has been driven a total wreck on the desolate west coast of Vancouver Island.

DANCE ON THE BENNINGTON.

Pleasant Reception Tendered Officers of the Baltimore.

The officers of the U. S. S. Bennington entertained friends aboard ship last night in a reception to the officers of the U. S. S. Baltimore, about to leave this port. The Bennington was beautifully decorated with various tropical greens, Japanese lanterns, alternated with colored electric lights, made a very pretty effect from shore as well as on board.

The reception was very cordial and every one was made to feel at home. Dancing was the main feature of the evening, though many preferred the enjoyment of the cooling breezes that were to be had so freely on the upper deck.

The Kawaihau Club was present and furnished delightful music for the dance. Light refreshments were served.

President and Mrs. Dole were among the many prominent people present.

European Nations to Take Action Against America.

AGAINST THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Venezuelan Commission Formed—Canada will Retaliate in Tariff Duties. Big Issue of Bonds to be Made by President Cleveland—Other News.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Daily News will tomorrow publish a dispatch from Vienna stating that Lord Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, is negotiating with France and Holland with a view to adopting common action against the policy of President Cleveland.

Spain, the dispatch adds, has already assured Great Britain of her agreement with the latter on the question. It is believed that Great Britain, France, Holland and Spain will form an alliance to protect their American possessions against the United States.

The Daily News tomorrow, commenting upon the report that Secretary Olney has forwarded a private dispatch to Lord Salisbury, will say: "There is nothing incredible or surprising in such an announcement. On the contrary, it would be highly honorable to him. There is no reason to believe that in pushing the Monroe doctrine, Secretary Olney has any design of insulting or annoying England."

The paper discredits the various far-fetched explanations of President Cleveland's policy and says he meant to harm by his message to Congress. Whatever mischief he did he has since conscientiously and laboriously endeavored to undo.

VENEZUELAN IN EARNEST.

Anti-English Demonstration Causes Enthusiasm in Caracas.

CARACAS (Venezuela), Dec. 26.—The enthusiasm at the anti-English meeting was indescribable. It was the grandest outburst in the annals of Venezuela. Every house was decorated and the people were wild. There was a parade of 30,000 and a celebration at the American Legation.

President Crespo and the Cabinet reviewed the multitude from a balcony of the Yellow House.

Eloy Gonzales spoke in behalf of the people of Venezuela, and said they offered themselves to the national government as ready for war.

The Minister of the Interior, Dr. Juan Francisco Castillo, replied for the President, accepting the sacrifice and assuring the people that Venezuela will accept only arbitration. Should England refuse, she will fight for every inch of Guiana until the last Venezuelan has perished.

The multitudes cheered, crying "¡Abajo los Enemigos de Venezuela y Los Estados Unidos!" (Down with the English. Hurrah for Venezuela and the United States.)

The multitude then proceeded to the statue of Liberator Bolivar, where the American colony deposited a superb floral wreath, returning the courtesy of the Venezuelans to Washington on a previous occasion.

STARVING MUSICIANS.

The Royal Band of Hawaii Reduced to Most Desperate Straits.

MASSILLON, O., Dec. 26.—A Christmas ball was given last night, for which the members of the Royal Band of Hawaii, former proteges of the deposed queen, were engaged, the entire organization being still stranded here.

During the proceedings one player became deathly ill, and complained of chronic heart trouble. He was carried out and found to be starving. All were in a similar condition, but were too proud to beg. Wealthy people made up a purse for the homesick foreigners.

Venezuelan Commission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The President has tendered places on the Venezuelan commission to Edward J. Phelps of Vermont, ex-Minister to England, and Robert T. Lincoln of Illinois, ex-Minister to England. Their acceptances have been received. Richard H. Alvey of Maryland, the present chief justice of the recently created Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, has been named and accepted as the third and final member of the commission.

WANTS SUGAR TAXED.

Should be a Duty Placed Upon the Raw Material.

OMAHA, Dec. 25.—Mr. H. T. Oxend, President of the American Beet Sugar Association, said this evening: "While Congress is placing a duty upon so many other things why are the American sugar producers not protected. I was surprised to note the action of the Ways and Means Committee in neglecting this feature. American sugar is produced in the United States by rivals of the trust. The American producers are struggling for existence, and an increased duty on raw sugar is the only practical method of stimulating the industry in the United States. The duty on refined sugar has been a great sugar trust, but the duty on the raw article assists the producers of the country generally and indirectly the great agricultural interests."

A duty of 15 percent, on both raw and refined would help the American beet sugar producers without benefiting the trust, since the trust must purchase its raw material abroad. The production of every pound of sugar by the American producers entering its consumption in this country means so much less business for the trust, hence the trust is anxious to hinder the development of the home product. The danger is that the Ways and Means Committee, in ignorance of the true situation, will fatally cripple the rapidly growing industry of beet sugar manufacture in the United States. The West is vitally interested in this subject."

Canada to Retaliate.

OTTAWA, Dec. 25.—The leading topic in political circles and in the customs department especially is the rumored United States tariff, and it is almost a certainty that Canada's tariff will be raised with a direct aim at the United States. Mr. Wood, speaking today as Controller of the Customs, said the matter had not yet come before the Cabinet, but admitted that Finance Minister Foster was busily engaged on retaliatory recommendations.

DUNRAVEN IN NEW YORK.

Committee Appointed to Hear Charges Preferred by English Lord.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The special committee appointed to hear testimony on the charges preferred by Lord Dunraven, that the Defender did not sail against the Valkyrie in her measured water line, met today in secret session at the New York Yacht Club.

The members of the special committee, E. J. Phelps, G. L. Rives, W. C. Whitney, Captain Mahan, United States Navy, and J. Pierpont Morgan, were present.

Mr. Asquith made the opening statement. This occupied the greater portion of the morning session.

Lord Dunraven was on the stand during the afternoon, and his friend, Arthur Glennie, was also subjected to a few questions by Lawyer Choate. Latham Fiske, a member of the American cup committee, said the investigation would probably be finished by tomorrow night.

THE NEW STATE.

Utah to be Admitted Into the Union Today.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The new Constitution of Utah, which was brought to Washington a week ago by the Utah Commissioners, has been examined by the President and Attorney-General Harmon and found to be in all respects in accordance with the terms prescribed in the enabling Act. Therefore, the President will issue his proclamation January 4th declaring Utah a State of the Union. As the State officers are to assume their duties on the Monday following the admission of the new State, they will be in office on January 6th. Attorney-General Harmon has telegraphed these facts to the Chief Justice of Utah, at the request of the President.

Boston Sails for China.

VALLEJO, Dec. 28. The Boston sailed today at 9 o'clock a. m. direct for China, carrying some sixty men above her crew for distribution among war vessels now on that station. Some of these men will go to the Monocacy, which craft is used as a sort of river police boat in the waters penetrating further inland in the event of native uprisings than is possible for the regular cruisers. The Boston sails a much finer ship than when last in commission. She now makes four or five knots greater speed, and her battery and electric light plant have been made more effective.

Big Issue of Bonds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Julius Chambers sends the following to the Journal from Washington: A big issue of bonds is sure. The President and his Cabinet have been in consultation all the afternoon and far into the night, and a decision has been reached indicating that Mr. Cleveland has given up all hope of relief from the Congress of the United States, that he feels his responsibility and has decided to rise again to the great emergency and act upon his own responsibility.

OF INTEREST TO MANAGERS OF PLANTATIONS.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pumps, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles.

Electric Power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers; and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and all Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

MAUI'S MERRY MELANGE

Native Fireman Killed on Wailuku Plantation Railway.

OLD AND NEW YEAR EVENTS.

Books for Makawao Fortnightly Club.
Twenty-two Applicants for Teachers Examination—Chalk-Talk at Kipahulu—Sugar Mills Ready for Work.

MAUI, Jan. 4.—Despite a fierce kona wind, New Year's eve was joyously celebrated by the Young Ladies' Club at the Paia residence of Dr. Aiken. The old year was danced out and the new one ushered in with lively music and tripping feet. As the midnight hour struck, cheers were given for '95 and '96 and greetings interchanged. The sweet slumbers of a popular Makawao young lady were rudely broken by many voices uttering Happy New Year through the telephone. Another incident of the memorable evening was the attempt of a band of serenaders to rival and overpower the dance music of the string band. Among the young ladies present were Miss Aiken, Miss Ethel Smith of Honolulu, Misses Minnie and May Baldwin, Misses Eva and Nellie Smith, Miss Grace and Belle Dickey.

A serious accident occurred on the new Wailuku plantation railroad beyond the Waihee mill last Monday. As the engine pushing some cars was rounding a curve it suddenly left the track, tumbling over on its side down the bank. The cars kept on their course uninjured. In the cab was a native fireman named Kaanana, who was killed while attempting to jump. The night engineer, Molokai, had several ribs broken; Engineer Walsh escaped without injury. The coroner's jury decided that Kaanana came to his death through the agency of a locomotive belonging to the Wailuku plantation railroad and a defect in a certain portion of the said railroad. The true cause of the accident remains a mystery, for if the roadbed had caved in, as is generally stated, the engine would have fallen on the inside and not on the convex side curve as was the case. An expert engineer recently inspected the new railroad and pronounced it well constructed.

On New Year's day at Waikoa, Kula, seven horse races and two sprinting contests were witnessed by nearly 400 spectators. The track recently laid out admitted only quarter of a mile dashes, and the purses given consisted of entrance fees. Messrs W. H. King, Hao, Peter Joseph and John Magill acted as judges. The same afternoon at Kahului the Wailuku baseballists overwhelmingly defeated the Spreckelsville boys—25 to 9. After an inning or two the Spreckelsville nine went to pieces with the exception of Sandborn and Kauka, the pitcher and catcher. Messrs. Charles King and Harry Mossman were the umpires.

New Year's eve was also fittingly celebrated in Bailey's Hall, Wailuku, by sixteen or twenty couples who tripped the light fantastic until the wee small hour of 4 a.m. As the old year was adying the folds of two large (Hawaiian and American) flags which draped one end of the hall were loosened and the legend "Happy New Year, 1896" was revealed.

The party was given under the direction of Messrs. W. H. Campbell, D. Quill, Oiding, M. T. Lyons, M. G. McLane and F. Hansen.

Andrew Freitas of Paia had his thumb blown off on New Year's day while fooling with a Chinese bomb.

New Year's Day a Makawao picnic party visited one of the gulches near the sea at Haiku and gazed at the sad waves. The lunch was the "thrilling" part of the day and much enjoyed by the twenty-five persons present.

Thursday evening, the 2nd, a large party of Makawao young folks assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Haiku, and passed several hours most pleasantly. The "flower" conundrums were a unique feature of the evening's entertainment. The party was given in honor of Miss Ethel Smith of Honolulu who has been spending the holidays at Haiku.

The Makawao Footnightly Club has recently received its books, which range all the way from Nordau's "Degeneracy" to Hope's "Dolly Dialogues."

Miss Neal, of Spreckelsville, had a little gathering of friends at her house New Year's eve.

Rev. Horsfall, of Lahaina, preached in the church of the Good Shepherd of Wailuku on December 29th. The same day Dr. E. G. Beckwith preached a Christmas sermon at Paia church. The beautiful decorations of the interior consisted of calla lilies, begonias, ferns and palms.

The Maui Telephone Company have 125 telephones in use. There are five applicants waiting for instruments.

L. A. Thurston was at Haleakala Ranch, Makawao, during his stay on Maui.

S. T. Alexander, of Oakland, is a guest of H. P. Baldwin, Haiku.

At the teachers' examination in the Wailuku school-house, during Jan. 3d and 4th, twenty-two applied for certificates.

An informer, a certain Ab Sin, was caught sneaking around one of the Spreckelsville camps recently and nearly beaten to death by some of his fellow countrymen, who objected to the discovery by the police of how and from whom they obtained their liquor.

Professor Rosecrans, of Kipahulu, gave a chalk-talk at Wailuku Court house on the night of Dec. 30th. He will give an exhibition in the Paia church on Monday night, Jan. 6th. Hamakua, Paia and Spreckelsville mills will all start grinding on the 6th. Spreckelsville intends to run two mills night and day and take off their crop in five months.

On Dec. 30th, the three-masted schooner Mary Dodge, Hansen master, showed in the offing, but could not come into port owing to a strong south wind. She was compelled to beat about outside for four days until Jan. 2nd. Her time of 14 days from San Francisco was thus increased to 18. She brought a large cargo of general merchandise for many consignors. Weather—Kona wind most of the week. Much rain in Wailuku.

Trip to California.

The "Trip to California" by way of the stereopticon views at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night proved a very successful entertainment, both in the matter of enjoyment and from a financial standpoint. The views, excellent in themselves, were placed upon the screen in a manner known only to experts. The hall was comfortably filled, and a most instructive evening was spent.

EXCITING OCEAN RACE.

Claudine Declared the Winner by Three Minutes Allowance.

EDITOR ADVERTISER:—On our arrival in Honolulu hearing so many conflicting statements on the subject of the late race between the steamers Kinau and Claudine, I considered it a duty towards myself and friends to hand to you for publication extracts of the Claudine's log. I will preface my extracts by stating that, owing to the wind at that time, we could not leave our dock without colliding with the Kinau. Consulting Captain Clarke on the subject, we decided that the Kinau should leave the dock first, and we parted with the distinct understanding that each would do their level best under the circumstances:

Kinau started from her dock Dec. 30th 5.04 p.m.
Claudine started from her dock Dec. 30th 5.11 p.m.

Claudine had Molokai light abeam 5.34 p.m.

Kinau blew her whistle at Lahaina (presumably at anchor) Dec. 31st 12 06 a.m.

Claudine was anchored at Lahaina at 12 10 a.m. of Dec. 31st.

E. F. CAMERON,
Commanding steamer Claudine.

DO BIRDS CONVERSE?

Have They a Language in Song? Prof. Zanolch Believes so.

There has been for few early mornings and just before sunset the cooing, or singing notes, of many doves so plentiful at this season of the year about the plantations and suburbs of our city. Lately hovering and flitting about the shade trees of the Hawaiian hotel, Mr. Lucas, the manager, and the guests had noticed these birds in their weird mournful cooing songs and were most enjoyably surprised when Prof. Zanolch spoke as follows: "It may seem strange to you, but I am a firm believer that birds hold converse. I have with me some beautiful Gibraltier ring doves. They are my darling pets and part of my large family and stars of my entertainments. I secured them on my tour round the world some ten years ago. In most cities, and particularly in smaller country towns, I noticed my pets would do their coo-ings, and sometimes I would scold them for calling too loudly—then I would hear from a near tree or shrub the same, or nearly the same song. Could it be that my pets were calling to strangers of their feathery tribe to hold converse and tell them of their travels in their pent-up cage? These visits occur often, and here in this beautiful paradise of the whole world, my pets are having a feast of song with their newly-made Hawaiian friends."

The Japanese Consul-General gave a dinner to his predecessor and a party of fifteen at the Richeieu last night. Several ladies recently from Japan were among the guests.

W. R. FARRINGTON, EDITOR.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1896.

AMUSEMENT does not seem likely to be lacking in Honolulu. We have lost our circus and our concert people and now we have a full fledged prestidigitateur to keep us amused. We thoroughly believe in healthy public amusements.

It is just a year today since the community suffered a loss by the tragic death of Charles Carter. Had he lived he would have been one of our leading jurists and foremost politicians. Many friends still do and ever will mourn their loss.

THE libel of the Henrietta came on yesterday. The case seems in all essential particulars to be the same as that brought forward against the passenger Gaile, the captain and crew, before Judge Perry. Under that evidence the whole lot were convicted.

MINISTER HATCH is making his way in Washington. It was to be supposed he would do so. He is a genial man, his brain is clear and he soon shows his ability. He is thoroughly versed in all the questions of the day here, and is also historically well posted. The latest letters to the Government show that Mr. Hatch is doing our cause good work.

THE opening evening of the Night school may be regarded as a success. Ninety-nine pupils enrolled themselves, the ages ranging from 15 to 30 years. Professor Alexander, who was present, seemed very much pleased. It was really a very encouraging thing to see the earnestness of those who were willing to have the opportunity to learn. There has probably been nothing so popular for a long time as this move for establishing a night school.

THE war scare is over—but it must always be remembered that the scare was there. We all agree that it is a good thing that no war took place, or is likely to take place at present. But the worst of such "scares" is the ugly feeling that they leave behind. American interests and English interests suffer from this. The two nations are one in blood, but they are over in spirit too, and fighting is really the root of our race. Our ancestors imagined a Walhalla in which there should be nothing but fighting and hunting all day and feasting all night. The moment a chance of fighting appears before us, we are eager to get at it. That accounts for the jingo press of both nations. But fortunately there are cooler heads and we find that most of these questions which were put to the arbitrament of arms a century back are better settled at Washington and Downing street.

A PRESIDENT of the United States has great power. The Queen of England, the Emperor of Germany could not issue bonds in an emergency without the consent of the regularly constituted powers. The latest advice state that a "big issue of bonds is sure." This shows how acute the financial difficulty in the United States is. Whether the efforts of the administration will be of avail to prevent a panic which should, by all rules, come, is doubtful. Commercial rises and fallings are subject to invariable laws. We have had them in recent years. In 1857, in 1859, in 1866, in 1879, in 1885 and in 1887—they came. In more recent years we have had them, and locally they come. To those who understand finance, panics are but the disease of finance, as cholera or smallpox is the disease of the body. Doctors are not always successful in combating disease. Financial doctors are not. President Cleveland is a clever man, whatever his detractors may say, can he meet the inevitable? We are not sure of it.

ANNEXATION.

Minister Castle, while in Washington, has done good service to our country. His suave and genial manner has carried its way. There is every probability that an effort will be made to get the Hawaiian matter definitely settled, and of that there can only be one settlement. Annexation, in spite of every personal desire in this place, is bound to come. The sooner the better. It amuses a student of history to watch how the cat plays with the mouse. The logical end of things is practically, in our case, foreshadowed; but we play with the question, and are played with very efficiently, until we get into a regular ferment. Our end is assured. We become a portion of the United States. Till we do become so we shall have to pass through none too comfortable a time. We are open to attacks from various sources. We have to be prepared to meet those attacks. Consequently we have to keep up a strong force, not for those within, but for possibilities from abroad. The very end and aim of our existence is to show that we are really a self-governing power. This we have shown. President Cleveland's path in dealing with the inevitable is plain. It is disagreeable to swallow your own words—but the path is plain nevertheless, it is that no settled form of government in the Hawaiian Islands can flourish save a Republican one, and, granted that, why should not Hawaii become an integral portion of the Great Republic. It is to us tire some to hear intelligent people talking against annexation. We are in the position of a buffer between the East and the West. Our only hope is with the people of our own race. Flood the little islands with Eastern influences and where would not only we be but where would the great power near us be? It would have a thorn in its side, which, however great it may be, would prove anything but pleasant. The thorn in the foot, it is needless to make allusion to, but a very large body can be made very uncomfortable by means of a very small disagreeable. Hawaii stands now in the position of a possible thorn. It is doing its best and doing it gallantly to keep its own autonomy, but it looks for its eventual annexation to the United States. The day for that does not now seem to be so far off.

COFFEE SAMPLES.

We publish today a letter to Mr. G. D. Gilman from Mr. J. R. Shapleigh of the Shapleigh Coffee Company, Boston.

Mr. Gilman does not inform us, nor, apparently has he informed the Boston firm where he got his sample from. There is a wide difference between coffee properly prepared for market as it has been by Mr. Rycroft of Puna and several of the Kona planters, and the coffee prepared in the primitive style one may see in any of the villages along the Kona coast. From the description given in the letter, we have very little hesitation in saying that the sample sent to Mr. Shapleigh was of the latter variety, that it had been pounded in some old lava trough about Hookena or Napoopoo—and had been misused as all coffee beans were a few years ago, before the true coffee planting pioneers had shown what ought to be done to the bean to prepare it for market. Moreover we further think that the specimen in question was from some of the old trees, which have been allowed to grow wild.

It will pay our coffee planters to send samples abroad but the samples must be of the very best coffee we have. Further, there should accompany each sample some account of where the coffee was raised, the elevation, the climatic conditions and the amount of cultivation bestowed. As it is well known that our coffee is superior to Central American coffee it is evident that a poor sample has been sent. The letter states that no account of the coffee was furnished.

We call the attention of our coffee planters to this report upon their product and trust that they will take immediate steps to counteract what is an unfair view of our very important industry, due to the carelessness of some one in sending a poor grade sample.

KONA ROADS.

The Kona people are agitating about their roads. It seems to us, however, a misnomer to call them roads. With the exception of the road from Hookena to Pahoehe and Alae, a distance of five miles, and from Kailua to Holualoa, a somewhat shorter distance, there is nothing but a bridle path. The so-called "upper road," which goes through the forest belt, and on each side of which are strung along the little farms and coffee plantations, is a relic of the past. It was none too easy for a good horse; but when lumber and products have to be carried along, it becomes a perfect detriment to the progress of the district. It winds about and goes up steep slopes and down steep slopes without any thought of grade or convenience. While there are, practically, no gulches in Kona, there is no earthly reason why a good road should not be made. It would not be an expensive matter to make a wagon road which would go right through from Kalaea or Halealoha, if memory serves us, to Kahuku in Kau, where there is now practically a carriage road to Hilo. This road, to be of use, would not have to follow entirely the line of the old road. It would have to be carefully graded and adapted to the best interests of those living along the line of route. Once a good, central road is established, the task of making side tracks from the plantations to the main road could be readily undertaken by the landowners and cultivators.

Our attention has been called to this matter by letters from important residents of the district. One correspondent points out that "no people who are accustomed to the use of wagons are likely to settle in a district where they can only use pack animals," and adds that as a consequence the districts of Kona are being filled "by quite a number of undesirable settlers." There is no question that development of Olaa is due entirely to the excellent road which has brought far more money to the town of Hilo from the excellent class of settlers along it, than it gets from mere tourist travel. We believe that were the Konas opened up by a good central road, and cross roads to the half dozen landings, the district would increase far more rapidly than the Olaa district has done. The natural advantages of soil, climate and location are superior to Olaa in the eyes of many people.

It is a great satisfaction to every one here that the Strathnevis was absolutely safe. A thrill of horror went through this community when it was thought that the Strathnevis had gone down when she was almost within reach of safety. The vessel had anchored behind Destruction Island. As to what the Miowera did under her captain's orders that will be a matter for legal investigation. There is evidently a divergence of opinion between the cabin and the steerage passengers. But the opinions of passengers are of very little value unless they are nautical men. As the case stands the Miowera saved the ship and the lives on board; another day's towing would have brought her a splendid pecuniary reward. The hawyers parted in a heavy gale and still the Strathnevis was enabled to find safety. There will probably be a long case before the naval courts on the question of salvage.

THE election for Senator comes off today in Hilo and the adjoining districts of Hawaii. Mr. Young's chances for winning are almost a certainty. He has the backing of the most influential men of the district and is thoroughly well acquainted with their commercial needs. Moreover Mr. Young is a popular man in Honolulu and is an all round man, knowing thoroughly the needs of the whole country. He will be an acquisition to the Senate.

STATISTICS.

To multiply bureaus of the Government is not an advantage, but we think there would be a direct advantage in establishing a statistical bureau. The present record of births and deaths upon the islands is utterly inaccurate. There is some accuracy with regard to Honolulu, but outside Honolulu it is all haphazard. Statistics are obtained, but they are not reliable. In many of the bureaus of the Government very excellent statistics are obtained, but they need collation. Each bureau supplies what it can, and some of them supply excellent material, but they only particularize, they do not generalize. It should be the duty of some portion of the Government to generalize the information. Mr. Thrum, in his Annual, does this kind of work and it is very ably done. We doubt whether the community fully understand how much they are obliged to Mr. Thrum for his admirable work, but his work is not official and he has not time to work out the details of, nor has he authority to collate. Most countries pride themselves upon putting forward the very best showing for themselves in an authoritative form. We do not, because we have no proper method of sifting the material laid before us. What is needed is to show what our industries are, what they can do, what our birth rate is, what our death rate is, what our marriage rate is, what our lands are, what our land system is, and so on—such information, published under Government authority and made as accurate as it is possible, would be of infinite value. We have only to open the books of communities, that seek to attract immigrants to their shores, to see how much pains they take to put the information, worth having, in an authoritative way before any one who may need it. This is one side of the question, the other is, that for our own advancement we may learn much and may stop many foolish enterprises, if we have a dependable set of statistics to guide us. Without statistics, reliable statistics, upon every point a nation is very much in the position of a man who has a large fortune and spends it without keeping account and seeing what each field or each herd of cattle is doing. As a matter of fact our Legislators however intelligent they are, are very far behind their duty, because through absence of collated statistics they don't thoroughly understand what they are dealing with.

AN EDUCATIONAL CHANGE.

A circular issued by the Board of Education relative to the use of school houses for religious purposes will doubtless cause some discussion, but it is certainly in accord with the spirit of the age and in consonance with the "evident intention" of the Constitution. It has been the custom in the past to allow the use of the Government school houses for religious teaching after 2 o'clock for one hour per week to the clergymen or priests of any denomination. While in many places this plan has worked without friction, in other places it has caused considerable friction and jealousy. From our point of view the public schools should be distinctly secular and the teachers and officers of the Board "should be very strictly enjoined to avoid all religious topics."

We have two great religious bodies, the Roman Catholic and the Protestant, the latter somewhat subdivided into various branches. The religion of a teacher should never be either a detriment or an advantage in his obtaining employment under the Board. We believe that of late years it has never been so and that a large number of Roman Catholics as well as Protestants have been employed, and the question of religion has not been considered, only the qualifications of the appointee.

Now the present regulation, while stopping all religious training in the schools by the clergy of any denomination, evidently calls the attention of teachers to the fact that they also must refrain from religious topics and from influencing their pupils in any way towards the particular form to which they belong. Purely non-sectarian schools should be the motto of every advanced man and woman. We notice that the use of the Lord's prayer for commencing school is permissive, and not mandatory as heretofore. As a fact, the mandatory clause was not always observed.

The Board is evidently desirous of treating all religious bodies alike, and is mindful of the motto, "in medio tutissimus ibis."

THE supreme bench is filled up by the appointment of Judge Whiting. As foreshadowed in the ADVERTISER a few days ago, Mr. Alfred Carter takes the senior justiceship in the Circuit Court, and Judge Perry, of the Police Court, takes second place. Mr. Paul de la Vergne, who has been prosecuting attorney in the police court for a year past, takes Judge Perry's place in the District Court. The appointments give us new blood, and will be of benefit to the community at large.

Libel of the Henrietta.

Judge Whiting was engaged in Chambers yesterday hearing the Henrietta libel case. No contest was made, but Wheeler, Gaile and the crew are presumed to be interested in the schooner. The testimony was a repetition of that given before the lower court.

THE PERKINS WINDMILL

is new in this country, but in the United States THOUSANDS are in use, and on account of their superior strength and easy running qualities, they have taken FIRST RANK among windmills. We have just received a carload of Mills and can furnish on short notice STEEL GALVANIZED MILLS of 8, 10 and 12-foot diameter, and WOOD MILLS of 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18-foot diameter. We have direct motion windmills for places where there are steady strong winds, and geared mills which will run in very light winds, but cannot pump so fast as the direct motion mills. Some of our mills have oiled bearings of the most approved kind, and some the celebrated graphite bearings, which will run for years without any oil, also steel galvanized towers, 30 and 40 feet high.

Send for the PERKINS CATALOGUE and read the description of the geared mills for farmers and stockmen. With the use of shafting and pulleys they can be made to grind corn or barley, cut fodder, turn a grindstone and saw your wood. Wood can be erected if preferred, and we give directions for the timber and erection. We have also Gould's Lifting and Force.

Timely Topics

"All things in their time and all things in their place." The place we hold is that of a person who is trying to help matters for the benefit of those who use goods that is in our line.

As Shakespeare says: "So hallow'd and so gracious is the time" that we are tempted to mention a few of the items that we consider are in season, viz: all kinds of team collars, best chain harness, best harness and saddle leather, all kinds of breeching rings and harness fittings. These goods are reasonable if ever they are. Something is always bound to get out of order no matter how careful you may be, and you had much better be prepared for an emergency than to be placed in a predicament, when you cannot afford to lose any time. This is not a case of whip! whip! hoorah! but of a whip that will give you value received for money invested and is conceded to be the best representative of the kind in Honolulu, and comprises buckskin lashes, whip lashes and whip stock, for four, six and eight horse team. In fact we are up-to-date in what is wanted by the plantation men for every day use.

Going further in this line we have all kinds of plows needed by planters, from the Hendry Breakers (the best plow made) to the smallest of rice plows; from the large double furrow to the 10-inch middle plows so popular with planters.

Some people like to make their own butter and we can supply them with the churns to do the work whether they want sufficient for a small family or for the "Richelieu."

Those who make cocktails should try one of our "Gem Shavers" as all the experts agree that the best kind can be made by using one of these shavers. You pour your liquor into what looks like snow, and the result will make even the father of a large family feel as if he owned the world and did not care whether school kept or not. We have sold most of our Aluminum Ware, but have a few of these handsome white brush and comb sets which are the best and cheapest things of their kind ever introduced.

We do not make a practice of puffing our own wares, but these goods are something that we wish to call your especial attention to, and know that you need only to see the goods to realize their merit.

FIELD DAY ON 17th.

H. A. A. C. Indifferent Regarding Athletic Events.

Many of the athletes of the city have been asking the question of late: "What is the H. A. A. C. doing about field day?"

"Because the horse races have been set for that day is no reason why the athletic contests should be entirely disregarded," said an enthusiast yesterday. "The H. A. A. C. seem to be losing spirit. Why this should be cannot be understood, for certainly they have always shown themselves ready to further the interests of genuine sport in the past. The horse races are set for the day that rightly belongs to them, and they make no effort to arrange matters so as to have athletic contests. There remains but few days before the 17th, and if the H. A. A. C. boys do not get to work and work in earnest their field day will not amount to much."

A Significant Departure.

With the departure of another year when a review is made of the condition of affairs, it is only right that some thought be given to the physical body which enables everyone to battle with life's problem and figure for themselves the profit or loss on the trial balance sheet. Though the back account may be large and each one's material gain be great, it would not be surprising if it suddenly dawned upon many that good health has been greatly impoverished by the low condition of the blood. It is in this state that the lactic acid in the vital fluid attacks the nervous tissues, particularly the joints, making known the local manifestations of rheumatism. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla the great blood purifier, a positive and permanent cure for rheumatism. HOBSON DRUG CO., wholesale agents.

Long and Able Career in Politics and Law—Popular in Public and Private Life.

Today is the 58th anniversary of the birth of Chief Justice A. F. Judd. In honor of the event, Prof. Berger and the Hawaiian Band will serenade the Chief Justice at his home at 8 o'clock this morning. A. F. Judd was born in Honolulu on the 7th day of January, 1838. His early education was received at the Royal School and Punahou College. His studies were prosecuted with a view to fitting him for a legal career, and at the age of 22 he was admitted to the junior class at Yale College, from which he graduated in 1862. He next entered the Harvard law school, and graduated two years later with the degree of LL.B.

After graduating, Mr. Judd returned to his island home, and was duly admitted to practice before all Hawaiian courts. He practiced law from 1864 to 1874, and built up a large and lucrative connection.

Mr. Judd served two terms in the Legislature, and on the ascension of Lunalilo was made Attorney-General in that monarch's cabinet, although then only 34 years of age. In February, 1874, Kalakaua appointed Mr. Judd Second Associate Justice.

In 1877 on the resignation of Chief Justice Allen and the promotion to that place of First Associate Harris, Mr. Judd became First Associate, and upon the death of Mr. Harris, he became on Nov. 5th, 1881, Chief Justice, which office he has held ever since.

Chief Justice Judd married in April, 1872, Miss Agnes Boyd, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Jas. R. Boyd, of Geneva, N. Y., and has a family of nine children—seven boys and two girls. His eldest son, Albert Francis, Jr., is now at Yale College.

Chief Justice Judd is a man of agreeable presence and address. He has many friends and few enemies. By the legal fraternity and the public generally he is regarded as an able and conscientious judge, and in private life is universally respected.

BY AUTHORITY.

CIRCULAR.

In a circular formerly issued by this Board on the subject of religious teaching in schools, reference was made to the fact that in the statutes relating to the Bureau of Public Instruction it is provided that no person in holy orders or minister of religion shall be eligible to fill the office of President of the Board of Education or of Inspector General.

Again, Article 37 of the existing Constitution declares that "no public money shall be appropriated nor public land conveyed to or for the support or benefit of any sectarian, denominational or private school," etc.

The evident intention of these provisions is that there shall be no religious teaching in the public schools supported by the Government, but that they shall remain strictly non-sectarian and secular.

The school buildings should therefore be used only for purposes pertaining to the public education of the children of the country. Accordingly, the permission formerly given to the School Agents "to arrange with the clergymen of any religious denomination to allow them the use of the Government school houses after 2 o'clock p. m., for a time not exceeding one hour, once a week for each denomination applying, for the religious instruction of such scholars as may choose to attend" is hereby revoked.

This Board does not, however, consider it inconsistent with the principle stated above, to continue the practice of opening the schools every morning by repeating the Lord's prayer in unison.

The School Law also declares that "The object of the common schools supported by Government is to instruct the children of the nation in good morals," which include honesty, truthfulness, obedience to parents and teachers, respect for superiors in age and position, patriotism, kindness, benevolence, helpfulness to the weak and the unfortunate, humanity to animals, personal cleanliness, modesty, chastity, temperance and other virtues, which should be taught by precept, illustration and example at all times.

No profane or indecent language should be allowed in the school premises or on the way to or from school. Special instructions should also be given on the evil effects of the use of alcoholic drinks and of narcotics.

By order of the Board of Education,
J. F. SCOTT,
Secretary.

FRIDAY, January 17, 1896, will be observed as a National Holiday, and all Government offices throughout the Republic will be closed on that day.

HAWAII GROWN COFFEE.

A Boston Importer Makes Report to Consul Gilman.

TEN POUND SAMPLE EXAMINED.

Lack of Improved Machinery in Gathering and Curing Crop Responsible for Certain Bad Defects—Blend of Hawaiian with other Coffees—Notes.

J. W. R. Shapleigh, treasurer of the Shapleigh Coffee Company, Boston, wrote to Hawaiian Consul Gilman D. Gilman of the same place the following letter about coffee raised in the islands:

I have been very much interested to examine the ten-pound sample of Hawaiian coffee to which you recently called my attention. It is interesting to me to see the product of the island and to have the opportunity of roasting and testing the same, which I have carefully done.

I have, during the past twenty years, had my attention from time to time called to Hawaiian coffee, and when King Kalakaua I visited Boston I met his Ministers with a view of the possible importation of coffee from the island, but learned from them that there was no considerable surplus beyond the actual consumption of the island, and negotiations were not prosecuted. I am, however, glad to know through you of the large increase of acreage of coffee cultivation, as I believe that it can be made a very profitable crop from the personal knowledge I have of coffee cultivation in other parts of the world.

The sample you have submitted to me is, to the eye, very attractive in the raw berry at first sight; closer examination, however, reveals the lack of improved machinery in the gathering of the crop—that is, the proper separation of the bean from the pulp, as the silver-skin adheres to a large portion of the berries—and there also appears to be an unusual proportion of dead as well as sour berries, the former of which are worthless and the latter objectionable on account of bad flavor. The presence of broken beans indicates also the crude machinery used in separating the bean from the dried cherry, the usually accepted method of curing coffee being today what is known as washing, by which the pulp of the cherry is rotted and washed from the bean, which is left intact and unquipped.

I am interested to know if the sample in question represents the average coffee of the island, and at the same time if it will be desirable, if you can, to specify whether they are from new farms or farms which have had special cultivation; also whether from low land or high land, or whether from damp or dry situations, and whether northern or southern exposures, much depending on the general conditions of soil, situation and plan of cultivation—that is, whether the trees are mulched and protected by the shade of banana trees planted alternately with the coffee trees or whether left without such protection of shade. The roots of the coffee plant, as perhaps you know, are largely superficial—that is, near the surface—and require a great deal of moisture and at the same time protection from the sun's direct rays.

As to the cup quality of the sample in question, I discovered a decided thinness, which is not desirable, and the requisite amount of coffee to produce the body of a good Java I find nearly or quite double that of the Java of which I sent you a sample. The flavor of the coffee, though peculiar, is not undesirable, and I can conceive that it is a flavor readily acquired and, indeed, preferred by one accustomed to it. This I believe, can be greatly improved by cultivation, as indeed the size of the bean, which is quite below the desirable standard of Java, Mexican, Guatemalan, Costa Rican or Venezuelan, into competition with which it would most naturally be brought.

I shall be glad at any time to see other samples from the islands, if they come to your hands, and we will sit down together and enjoy a cup of the fragrant beverage, experimenting if you desire with the blending of Hawaiian with other coffees which, in my opinion, will be the most natural and successful way to introduce it to the public favor.

The following official figures may be interesting as showing the remarkable increase in the consumption of coffee per capita in the United States. With a population (in round numbers) of 33,000,000 in 1882 the United States of America consumed 118,015,678 pounds of coffee valued at $12,810,125, an average of 3.46 pounds per capita. With a population (in round numbers) of 57,000,000, in 1885, the United States of America consumed 539,264,255 pounds of coffee valued at $42,839,270, an average of 9.45 pounds per capita. In other words, in 1885, the United States of America consumed more coffee than Germany, Austria, Hungary, France and the United Kingdom of Great Britain. In the year 1892 the United States of America paid $127,000,000 to foreign countries for coffee.

Changes in the Judiciary.

There has been several changes in the Judiciary department. Circuit Judge W. A. Whiting goes to the Supreme bench as Second Associate Justice, succeeding W. F. Frear, promoted to First Associate Justice, the position held by the late Justice Pickerton.

Deputy Attorney-General Alfred W. Carter succeeds Judge Whiting

as First Judge of the First Circuit. Judge Magoon has resigned as Second Circuit Judge and District Magistrate A. Perry promoted to the position. George de la Vergne succeeds to the place made vacant by Judge Perry's promotion.

Sunday Sermons.

The communion service at Central Union Church Sunday morning was well attended, in spite of the rain. After a sermon on the text "Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord," thirty-one new members were received into the church, of whom twenty-three joined in confession of faith, the remaining eight by letter.

"Time Past" was the subject of Rev. T. D. Garvin's Sunday morning discourse, having for its basis 1 Pet. iv: 1-11. The sermon had special reference to the year just closed.

LETTER FROM MARK TWAIN.

Sends Aloha to Old-Time Friends. Regrets Couldn't Stop Here.

The readers of this paper will remember how the Warrimoo passed this port in September without allowing communication with the shore and disappointing many people who expected to hear a lecture from Mark Twain. The mail by the Warrimoo last week brought the following letter from him addressed to H. M. Whitney, which his many friends here will be glad to read, though not written for publication:

"Frank Moeller's Masonic Hotel, Napier, N.Z., Nov. 30, 1895. Dear Mr. Whitney:—Your long-delayed letter has just reached me today, and I was very glad to hear from you, and know that you are still hale and hearty—which I am not; it exasperates me to have to say. I was perishing to get ashore at Honolulu, and talk to you all, and see your enchanted land again, and be welcomed and stirred up. But it was not to be, and I shall regret it a thousand years; for of course I shan't get another chance to see the islands again. At least, I am afraid I shan't. Life is so uncertain now-a-days.

"I have had a very delightful time in Australia and New Zealand, notwithstanding my poor health.

"Do please remember me most cordially to any of my old-time friends that still survive the thirty years interval since I was with them in Honolulu.

"I thank you ever so much for your beautiful 'Tourists Guide Through Hawaii,' which arrived by recent mail."

Sincerely yours,
S. L. CLEMENS.

It may be added that when in Honolulu in 1896, Mr. Clemens made the office of the P. C. ADVERTISER his headquarters, and in it wrote his famous letters to the Sacramento Union, which attracted so much attention at the time. The ADVERTISER office in those days was in the old Honolulu Hale on Merchant street, now occupied by J. A. Magoon and others, just below the present location.

THE JANUARY PARADISE.

Paper on Early School Methods by Hon. W. R. Castle.

The January number of the Paradise of the Pacific was issued Saturday. The current number is the first of the ninth volume. The contents are well chosen and include a descriptive article by Malcolm Brown, formerly a resident of this city; a brief sketch of the life of Hon. H. P. Baldwin; article on resources of Hawaii, and an instructive and interesting paper on early school methods in these islands, written by Hon. William R. Castle.

The illustrations are a striking likeness of Mr. Baldwin; a scene on the Waikiki road, from a photo by Charles Wilson; Rainbow Falls and a view of Richards street looking toward the ocean.

Rev. Joseph Cook, the famous lecturer whose mind has been impaired by overwork, appeared somewhat improved after his arrival at San Francisco. He proceeded at once to Clifton Springs, N. Y., where he will use the waters and enjoy a season of complete rest as possible.

Many merchants are well aware that their customers are their best friends and take pleasure in supplying them with the best goods obtainable. As an instance we mention Perry & Cameron, prominent druggists of Flushing, Michigan. They say: "We have no hesitation in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to our customers, as it is the best cough medicine we have ever sold, and always gives satisfaction." For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by all druggists and dealers. BENSON SMITH & Co., agents for H. I.

IN LATITUDE THIRTY-THREE.

Composed by Coxswain James O'Callaghan, U. S. Navy, and Apprentice Philip Connell, U. S. Navy, and sung to the tune of "The Alabama and Kearsarge."

Come all you jolly sailor lads,
And I'll sing to you a song;
And with your kind attention,
I will not detain you long.
Tis of the cruiser Baltimore
That I'm about to tell,
And D-a-y our captain's name,
Who handled the ship so well.

Chorus—

Lash all your boats,
And trice up all your gear,
Freeing ports we haven't got,
So see your scuppers clear.
Batten down your hatches,
And ready we will be,
For we're running into a heavy gale
In latitude thirty three.

While lying in Yokohama,
Not expecting such a blow,
Across to Honolulu,
We knew we'd have to go;
With every man on board the ship
As happy as a king,
When two days out, round our cruiser
scout.

The wind did whistle and sing.

Chorus—

Secure all your boats,
And trice up all your gear,
Freeing ports we haven't got,
So see your scuppers clear.
Keep her head to windward, boys,
And you will plainly see
The Baltimore will weather the gale
In latitude thirty-three.

We were in eastern longitude
One hundred and forty-nine;
Our latitude was thirty-three,
To the northward of the line;
Off the Japanese coast, my boys,
Four hundred miles or more,
We struck this blow, as you all may know.

In the cruiser Baltimore

Chorus—

The seas ran high as we steamed
Through the thickest of the gale;
Thirty-nine we rolled that night,
For we could carry no steady

The barometer was falling fast,
The seas were running higher,
When a green one over the fo'castle
came,
Putting out our galley fire.

Chorus—

Our grub was very salty—
Especially the stew;
The berth-deck cooks had all gone
mad,
For they were hungry too.

There were pots, pans and corned-
beef cans
All bundled up together
Like a Chinese band, it seemed so grand,
In the clemency of the weather.

Chorus—

Captain Day came out and said:
"This lasts too long for me,"
For he'd resolved to run the ship
Out of the heavy sea.
Just then the wind had shifted
About six points or more,
The helm was put to starboard,
And we run right dead before.

Chorus—

Now, when this blow was over,
Our work had just begun,
The bugle sounded "quarters,"
And we to our stations run;
The bright work was all rusty,
And the gun-covers were all tore,
It was a terrible sight, in broad daylight,
On the cruiser Baltimore.

Chorus—

Shine all your shoes,
You know we must be clean,
At "quarters for inspection"
Every man must toe the seam.
Of "getting up drill" you'll get
your fill,
On a modern man-of-war;
But we won't regret the days we spent
On board the Baltimore.

BALL THROUGH BRAIN.

Oliver Lewis, a Young Native, Takes His Own Life.

RESULT OF LIQUOR AND QUARREL.

Celebration of New Year and Domestic Troubles the Cause—Member of Co.
G.—Imitated Henry Kaia, his Late
Captain—Dressed in Uniform, Etc.

Oliver Lewis, a young native aged 30 years, and a member of Company G, N. G. H., shot himself at his home in Honoukaha at 7:30 a. m. on Friday. Death resulted instantly. The details leading up to the suicide bear a striking resemblance to that of Henry Kaia former captain of Company G.

Lewis had been on a prolonged spree since New Year's eve and was in a somewhat stupefied condition when he performed the act that ended his life. On Thursday night Lewis and his wife became intoxicated and had not recovered from the effects Friday morning. Shortly after 6 o'clock Lewis went out to the water tap in the front yard and after pulling for a while, succeeded in breaking it. The wife remonstrated, and told her husband he should fix the break. This Lewis objected to, and after an interchange of angry words, he left the house, dressed in his uniform, with blue trousers.

After obtaining his rifle Lewis returned to his home in a cottage near the Queen Dowager's home, just off Punchbowl street. He passed his wife lying in a drunken stupor on the front veranda and proceeded immediately to his room. Lying on the bed he put the rifle to his mouth and pulled the trigger. The ball passed out the back of the head and went through a window pane and the shutter of the front window.

The report of the gun was heard by David Aea and Lilikalani who hurried to the front door.

The woman was still lying on the veranda and had apparently not heard the report of the gun which sent a bullet whizzing through her husband's head and within a few feet of her own.

When found, Lewis was lying in a pool of blood. Around his left shoulder was an empty cartridge belt. The rifle was a 45-70 calibre and had in the chamber another charge beside the one spent.

When questioned about the matter, the woman could only convey the idea that Lewis had left the house very angry with her. She persisted in trying to reach the room of her dead husband and throwing herself on the bed regardless of the clotted blood that was found in a pool on the bed. Her face bore unmistakable signs of a night's debauch.

Shortly before the tragedy Lewis was seen by an acquaintance walking on Punchbowl street in the vicinity of his home. He was accosted and said "Good morning." According to this gentleman there seemed to be no signs of intoxication.

The funeral took place from the late home in Honoukaha at 4 p. m. Saturday. The remains were escorted to the grave by a detachment of ten men from Company G in command of Corporal E. Boyd, and buried in Nuuanu cemetery.

Colonel McLean, Captain Broome and Captain Kea, of Company G, represented the militia. The usual salute was fired and the last call on the bugle blown.

Magician Zamloch.

Professor Anton Zamloch, magician, arrived in Honolulu on the Australia. He will be favorably remembered by many families and friends as giving his wonderful entertainments here about twelve years ago. He brings with him a vast amount of new and interesting features, and will undoubtedly receive a hearty welcome from our amusement-loving people. Himself and staff, among which is the irrepressible assistant "Billy" Marx, will remain in Hawaii for about two weeks, and then proceed on their second great tour around the world.

Jack Atkinson Better.

Letters from Ann Arbor, Mich., say that Jack Atkinson has recovered from the effects of his operation and will be about attending to his studies in two or three weeks.

It was only a case of six hours for saving his life, but Dr. Nancree operated quickly and the lad is doing as well as his best friends could wish.

Sparf Can't Get a Ship.

Herman Sparf, who was once convicted of the murder of Mate Fitzgerald of the bark Hesper, for whose death St. Clair and Hansen were hanged at San Quentin about a month ago, has attempted to return to seafaring life, but sailors who know him will not ship with him. He was one of the crew of the British ship East African, which was to have sailed from San Francisco recently. The men discovered the identity of Sparf and told the captain that he must be sent ashore. Some of the men wanted to throw the sailor overboard, as it has been rumored on board ship that Sparf had attempted the life of the second mate of the American bark W. G. Davis.

TORE HAIR FROM HER HEAD.

The Pain Inflicted by Inflammatory Rheumatism. It Destroyed the Use of One Leg and Nearly Drove the Patient Crazy.

From the Standard, Syracuse, N. Y.

From the time when man first peopled the earth, down to the present day, the mystery of pain has filled all hearts with wonder and with terror. What is its nature, what are its causes, why is it permitted and what its uses are in the great economy of nature? All these questions men have asked of themselves and one another, and sometimes they fancy that they have found partial solutions of this great problem.

Many ways of relieving physical suffering have been devised, cunning minds have assisted tender hearts in bringing aid to the afflicted, all the vast resources of nature's laboratory have been pressed into service, to the end that tortured bodies might have succor from anguish, and know the peace that only health and a clear conscience can bring. And what more natural than that these poor victims of disease, thus relieved of unsupportable suffering, should desire to aid in the extension of the knowledge of the means whereby they have been benefited?

Such a one is Mrs. Kittie Baker, of Lebanon, N. Y. Mrs. Baker, an attractive woman between forty and fifty years of age, tells a sad tale of agonizing pain endured through weary months, and of final relief and cure through the use of that most reliable remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

She was ill for more than a year, suffering from a disorder which resulted in the utter loss of the use of one leg. She became entirely helpless, inflammatory rheumatism set in, and for four months Mrs. Baker was unable to put her foot to the floor. Her sufferings during this time were so great that she tore her hair from her head, in moments of frantic agony, and it became necessary to wash her most carefully, lest, when beside herself with pain, she should carry out her expressed desire and put an end to an existence which had become one prolonged torture. Just at this juncture, when life had become unendurable, when she had spent nearly everything that she had upon physicians and medicines, without avail, the time seemed to have arrived when, as the poet says, "things must either mend or end." No wonder that Mrs. Baker considers it an interposition of Providence in her behalf just then, when despair had taken possession of a naturally buoyant, hopeful nature, a friend should have brought her a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and besought her to try them. Without a particle of faith in the proposed remedy, yet as drowning men will, clutching at straws, Mrs. Baker took the first step in the dark toward a renewed lease of life, toward health and happiness.

When she had taken the pills her nurse noticed a change for the better in her, and in an incredibly short space of time she was able to stand upon her feet once more. Then to wait upon herself a bit. Then to do a little work occasionally, and now in a year's time, Mrs. Baker is a well and grateful woman. She cannot too heartily praise the bridge that carried her over, and never tires of recommending Pink Pills to her invalid friends. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by HOLLISTER DRUG CO., wholesale agents for Hawaiian Islands and all dealers in medicine.

Baptisms at Kawaiahao.

A very interesting service was held on Sunday at Kawaiahao church, it being the first celebration of communion since the reopening of that place of worship in November last. The pastor, Rev. H. Parker, baptized seventeen infants and five adults; while twenty persons were admitted to membership, two of the latter having returned to the church after a suspension of ten years. There has been more religious interest shown of late among the native Hawaiians than for several years; and it is hoped that it may result in the reclamation of many who have become indifferent to their religious education and profession.

The Progressive Educator for December has been received. It announces that H. S. Townsend has retired from the editorial chair and will be succeeded by Osmer Abbot, the principal of Lahaina-Luna.

REVENUE ON IMPORTS.

Present Tariff Law Repealed and McKinley Duties Again Imposed.

Sugar Duties to Remain Unchanged. Bond Bill Passes House—Venezuela Question—Consumption of Sugar.

Williams, Dimond & Co.'s trade circular from San Francisco, under date December 28th, says: The financial situation in this country has reached such a state that it has been found necessary to take immediate steps to replenish the gold reserve and supply further funds for the current expenses of the government. It is proposed to make a new bond issue, and, as a temporary relief, raise the existing revenues on importations, and yesterday a bill was passed by the House of Representatives which repeals the present tariff until August 1, 1898, and restores 60 per cent. of the McKinley rates on wool, woolen, lumber and carpets, and makes a horizontal increase of 15 per cent. of the present rates in all other schedules except sugar. The Bond Bill will probably be passed today, and it remains to be seen what action the Senate will take in regard to these measures, but, no doubt, they will pass some such relief bill.

The sugar producers of the country have already protested against the action of the Ways and Means Committee in excluding this important article for revenue, and not offering this large industry the same protection as others. An additional duty of 15 per cent. on raw and refined sugars would help our beet sugar producers without benefiting the Trust, who must purchase its raw material abroad. This would offer the same protection to island sugars. It seems, however, from present indications, that either through ignorance of the true situation, or fearing that the Trust would be benefited, the sugar duties will remain unchanged.

The recent excitement caused by the attitude of the United States toward England over the Venezuelan boundary line, has somewhat subsided, and we think the conservative people of both governments do not now fear open hostilities between the two countries, but expect the matter will be satisfactorily settled through diplomacy.

Messrs. Willett & Gray estimate the entire consumption of sugar in the United States for 1895, both foreign and domestic, at 1,945,406 tons, against 2,012,729 tons in 1894, which is a decrease of 67,323 tons instead of 5 per cent. increase. This decrease is supposed to be owing to the duty and to the poverty of a great portion of the people.

KAMAUNU TO HANG.

Two Hawaiians Arrested for Killing an Old Woman.

Kamaunu and Lilo found themselves far away from Hawaii, where they were born, and they had just been paid off for cutting wood in El Dorado county. They drank wine and Kamaunu bought a chicken of an old woman.

"She must have money," he said to his comrade Lilo, "for when I gave her gold she went into the house and brought out plenty of money to change it."

At night the Kanakas slept in their cabin and about midnight Lilo was awakened by a knocking at the door. It was Kamaunu, who had gone out. "Him he say he take a walk that night," Lilo testified at Kamaunu's trial, "and he talk with me. He say he kill that old woman and he lose pistol—he talk lose revolver very bad." When the old woman was found dead the two Hawaiians were arrested, but Lilo testified against his comrade and was released.

Kamaunu was convicted of murder in the first degree and was sentenced to be hanged. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court on the ground that his confession to Lilo had been improperly admitted as evidence, but the Supreme Court decided that the confession was voluntary and therefore admissible, because, as Lilo did not know of the murder until told by Kamaunu, he could not have offered Kamaunu any inducement to confess. So the Kanaka will hang.—[S. F. Examiner.]

The Spreckels' Suit.

The legal controversy between Claus Spreckels and his son Rudolph over the gift of $500,000 made to the son by the father has taken another turn. Attorneys for Rudolph Spreckels have taken proceedings to get the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Claus Spreckels in order to show that a full knowledge of the gift was known to Mrs. Spreckels and to negative the statements made by Claus Spreckels in his complaint to have the gift canceled on the plea that community property could not be bequeathed away without the knowledge and consent of those interested.

For a pain in the chest a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, will afford prompt relief. This is especially valuable in cases where the pain is caused by a cold and there is a tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all druggists and dealers. BENSON, SMITH & Co. agents for H. I.

JUST WHAT :-

:- WE EXPECTED

That extra 15 per cent. discount last week hunted up the judicious buyers and there was a decided movement in our stock.

Now, it was not the PRICES alone that sold these goods, it was the factor that caused buyers to look at them, to examine into the durability and finish, when that was done, then the prices did the rest.

We claim that we are always 15 per cent. lower than any other house in Honolulu. Don't take our word for it; convince yourself by examining our STOCK and PRICES. You will find our stock the LARGEST and as we say our prices the LOWEST.
